RI Elder Info

"For Seniors, Caregivers, and Professionals"

RI Elder Info 2023 Annual Report

For Seniors, Caregivers & Professionals.

In 2023, RI Elder Info continued to serve as a trusted guide for older adults, caregivers, veterans, and the professionals who support them—at a time when aging, caregiving, and benefits systems are growing more complex and harder to navigate.

Across Rhode Island, individuals and families face critical decisions related to health care, long-term care, benefits, housing, and caregiving. RI Elder Info exists to reduce confusion, prevent crises, and help people understand how to access the right resources at the right time.

OUR ROLE

RI Elder Info does not provide medical care or case management. Instead, we operate as a navigation and education hub, connecting people to accurate, plain-language information and trusted community resources.

We serve:

- Older adults
- Family and professional caregivers
- Veterans and their families
- Community-based professionals serving Rhode Islanders

Reach & Engagement

- 134,579 website page views
- 31,505 active users
- 292,000+ engagement events

Community Resource Fairs

Throughout 2023, RI Elder Info hosted and participated in Senior & Caregiver Resource Fairs across Rhode Island, including events in Westerly, Foster, and Newport.

These fairs allowed residents to:

- Apply for Medicaid, Social Security, and Veterans benefits onsite
- Connect with health plans and caregiver resources
- Receive free health screenings at select events

Virtual Education

RI Elder Info expanded virtual access through:

- 4th Annual Virtual Senior Resource Fair (November 2, 2023)
- Calling All Women Warriors (March 16, 2023)

Dementia Awareness

In July 2023, RI Elder Info partnered with Butler Memory and Aging on the community screening of "Forget Me Not," a nationally recognized play addressing dementia awareness in the African American community.

Collaboration

Our work is made possible through partnerships with:

- Health systems and health plans
- State and federal agencies
- Veterans organizations
- Nonprofit and faith-based partners

Organizational Stewardship

RI Elder Info maintained nonprofit compliance and good standing throughout 2023, with a strong commitment to transparency, fiscal responsibility, and community responsiveness.

Looking Ahead

The work of 2023 laid the groundwork for expanding access to information, strengthening caregiver supports, and helping Rhode Islanders navigate aging with dignity and confidence.

Thank You!

We thank our partners, sponsors, volunteers, and supporters for helping make this work possible.
